with Sally

The people you see around town these days with preoccupied looks and furrowed brows are usually people who are trying to decide where to spend their vacations.

We met Mrs. Jones in at the Geneva Bakery yesterday and she was staring with a fixed look at a fresh batch of oatmeal cookies just out of the oven.

"I'll take six dozen of these," she told the clerk absently. "And a couple of lemon pies, an Italian cream cake and seven loaves of home-made bread."

We noticed then that under her arm she carried four pounds of fresh butter from Robertson's Egg Store; a huge watermelon from Westlake Market, and a little portable radio from Byrne's Radio Store.

"Oh, yes," she explained to us brightly, "We're going away on our vacation. Don't ask me where," she interrupted herself. "We're still trying to decide. But I do know one thing," she added frimly, "I'm not going to spend all my time cooking as I usually do. This year I'm going to stock up before I leave."

We agreed that this was a very sensible idea, and accompanied her to Lucca Ravioli company, where she added a dozen fresh peaches, ten boxes of strawberries and several dozen oranges.

Lucca's offered to deliver it, but Mrs. Jones said no, they were leaving in an hour or two.

We were half-way home when we met Mr. Jones. He was in a very grumpy frame of mind.

"Henrietta," he addressed his wife without even looking at us. "I closed the deal for that new Willys at Mather Brothers this afternoon. It's a wonderful car and guaranteed for 100,000 miles. But for heaven's sake," he exploded irritably, "what good will it do us if we can't decide where to go?"

"Now, Bill," she answered patiently, "if you really have your heart set on Fishing-in-your-Boots Camp, we'll go there. But you know how easily the children take cold. And at the Boardwalk Resort, there's so much sunshine and we would meet so many nice people."

Bill glowered. "We could take along some Alka Seltzer and some bromides from Edwards

'. . . Cast Their Shadows Before'

There was no dearth of presidential hopefuls at the Democratic national convention which opened in Chicago Monday. But from the beginning to the end one name dominated the huge Stadium building, with delegates and spectators numbering in the thousands. It was the name of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who has determined the fate of the third term tradition.

Canadian Sport Fishing

Remarkable progress in the development and extension of sport fishing areas in the national parks of Canada is reported by the department of mines and resources, Ottawa, which administers Canada's system of national parks. As a result of biological surveys and subsequent stocking operations in the various lakes and streams, particularly waters once barren of fish, visiting anglers may now enjoy good fishing in many waters where previously there was little or no fishing available. One of the outstanding achievements has been the successful introduction of the speckled trout from its native haunts in eastern Canada into many of the clear, cold waters of the national parks in the Rockies.

Paper From Castor Plant

At the Sam Houston State Teachers' college, Huntsville, Texas, newsprint from castor plant pulp has been made in sufficient quantity to be used in printing the school newspaper. The paper is made from the stalk of the castor bean plant and is said to be ideal as a filler for book paper.

Bread Poultry Market

The American poultry farmer's best customer is the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, which last year reported purchases of 40,000,000 pounds of chicken and 90,000,000 dozen eggs, equal to two-thirds of a dozen for each man, woman and child in the country.

Milwaukee Screen Tests

Milwaukee motorists arrested on drunken driving charges get "screen tests." Defendants are required to walk a line four inches wide and 25 feet long painted on the floor of the sheriff's office, while a motion picture records the action.

Forty-five Pounds of Pennies

Scouting the Shops

Drug Store for the kids," he said. "And anyway I tell you we can't afford that &$& high-tone hang-out at Boardwalk."

Mrs. Jones was not ruffled. "All right, dear," she agreed. "But I have been so careful with expenses this month. I didn't buy that new coat, you remember, but had the old one cleaned at Beeson Cleaners. They did such a nice job that it will do beautifully. And the last dinner party we gave we held at the Hilltop Lodge and it cost us next to nothing—"

Just then the Jones' third-from-the-youngest heathen came tearing up, her curls flying in the wind and her mouth full of plums from the Daly City Cut Rate Market.

"Oh, mama," she exclaimed, "I just saw the best show at the Daly City theatre. It was all about New York. Please, mama," she pleaded violently, "please let's go to New York for our vacation. I don't want to go anywhere else now."

"Gee, ma," her brother, who had just arrived on the scene, scoffed loudly, "why don't you make her behave? I already told Johnny Brown that we are going to Mount Boone. That's where his folks take him for his vacation," he finished accusingly, "and you've been promising me and promising me-"

We left them there in the middle of the street, groceries and bitter words flying all about. It was a melancholy spectacle.

At dinner that evening, John suddenly stopped eating and looked at us across the table.

"This is a wonderful piece of meat from Farmers Market," he remarked. "Reminds me of how good steaks taste cooked over a camp-fire. You know, Sally," he said enthusiastically, "I think it's time to start planning our vacation."

Our heart sank and we tried to change the subject. But it was too late. The children had already heard.

Here we must draw the curtains. There are some scenes you do not care to discuss with even your dearest friends, and this is one of them.

Bungalow Nursery has some fine fuschias now, all ready to hang in a basket on your porch—that is, if you are not one of those unfortunate people who are trying to decide where to spend your vacation.

Titanic's Memorial

On the banks of the Potomac river in Washington, D. C., stands the Titanic memorial, sculptured by Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, in tribute to the men who responded with their lives to the cry of "Women and children first" on board the sinking Titanic. It was donated in 1927 by the Women's Titanic Memorial association.

Doubles in Mirrors

The balcony of the Forum restaurant, which opened recently in Chicago, is designed as half a room, but diners feel that they are in a whole room twice as large. The room is "completed" by reflection from a huge plate glass mirror which covers one wall. The lighting fixture is a half-circle of plate glass, also "completed" by the mirror.

Income Up in Seven States

From 1929 to 1937 America's national income dropped 12 per cent, but increased buying power, according to the department of commerce, was registered in the District of Columbia and seven states, Florida, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, North and South Carolina and Virginia.

The skeleton of a reptile that lived in the middle Permian period, 200,000,000 years ago, has been mounted in the Transvaal museum at Pretoria, South Africa. The work of mounting the skull, 26 vertebrae, shoulder girdle and the right hind leg required 20 years.

First Use of Thimbles

Thimbles are said to have been found at Herculaneum and were used by the Chinese at a very early period. Their invention in Europe is traditionally ascribed to Nicholas van Benschoten of Amsterdam in the Seventeenth century.

JELLIED SOUPS are a Gay Note for Summer Meals

says Dorothy Greig

Condensed consommé (jellied in the can) is a sparkling beginning to a summer meal.

ONE of the nicest things about summer is jellied soups. They look so cool and sparkly and inviting. And their delicate sharpness of flavor stimulates appetite for the dishes to follow. Incidentally, when a meal begins with jellied soup, it is a good plan to follow it with a hot main dish because one hot dish with every meal in summer helps keep digestions happy.

Now that jellied soups come in cans we can enjoy them whenever and as frequently as we wish. For instance, condensed Consommé, condensed Consommé Madrilène and condensed Consommé Printanier all jell in the can. Leave them in the refrigerator for several hours and they tumble out of the can as quivering amber jelly. Break up the jelly with a fork and serve with any one of a number of garnishes. These are particularly delicious—and decorative, too.

Garnishes for Jellied Soups

Chopped parsley sprinkled on top and a wedge of lemon on the side.

Mix 3 teaspoons chopped parsley and 1 teaspoon chopped green onion top.

Chopped cucumber and parsley.

Chopped parsley and radish slices.

Mix 3 teaspoons chopped parsley and 1 teaspoon chopped tarragon.

Mix 2 teaspoons chopped parsley and 2 teaspoons chopped chervil.

Chopped chervil and chopped parsley with radish slices.

Chopped parsley and chopped tarragon with wedges (¼ of a thin slice) of cucumber.

Wedges of cucumber (¼ of a thin slice), small pieces of tomatoes (seeds removed) and chopped chervil.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINTS

The Most Digestible Sugar

By Dr. James A. Tobey

AMONG the many necessary elements in the human diet is a good source of dextrose, or glucose, the only sugar that can be taken up by the blood and used directly for the energy needs of the body.

Dr. J. A. Tobey

The are numerous food sources of this essential nutrient, but some are better than others. The body can change the fat of foods into dextrose, and it can even obtain some of this sugar from protein foods, such as meat, cheese, and milk. The best sources of dextrose, however, are the carbohydrate foods, or those containing starches and sugars, such as breads, cereals, milk, and vegetables.

Whenever we eat foods rich in starch and the more complex sugars, these must be changed by the processes of digestion to dextrose, or glucose, the only form in which sugar can be absorbed in the system. Dextrose enters the blood stream, which carries it to the tissues, where it is burned to yield proper energy for muscular activity.

There is, however, a short cut in this long and involved process. Dextrose itself is available in many foods and so is ready for almost immediate absorption by the body, without going through the breaking down process needed when starch or the complex sugars are eaten.

The best natural sources of dextrose are fruits such as grapes and oranges, corn and corn syrup, honey, and most vegetables. Dextrose is, in fact, also known as corn sugar or grape sugar.

Pure crystalline dextrose is now made chiefly from American corn. It resembles ordinary cane sugar (sucrose) in appearance, but is slightly less sweet to the taste, and so does not tend to cloy the appetite.

This pure dextrose is widely used today in the preparation of many staple foods. It is commonly employed in making good bread, and is a usual ingredient of the best ice cream. It also goes into candy, preserves, canned fruits, fruit juices, carbonated beverages, and many other quality products.

The advantages of dextrose in the diet are its easy digestibility and comparatively rapid absorption. It provides a quick, economical, and palatable source of useful food-energy.

Buzzard Migration

The annual southward migration of buzzards was so great through San Gorgonio pass in California this year that the birds blacked out the sky. More than 4,000 of the birds were estimated to have made the mass flight south through the pass.

Shakespeare's Vocabulary

Shakespeare is credited with having had 24,000 words in his vocabulary.

Who Writes the Sermons?

Simply by reaching up and pulling a string attached to a small bell, Funnyface, seven-year-old cat of Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Knott, of Abington, Mass., lets his master or mistress know he wants to enter the house. He rattles a can opener when in need of nourishment.

Typewriter Ribbons

Typewriter ribbons are usually made of the best quality nainsook, closely woven of fine, even thread spun from the best long-fiber Sea Island cotton.

'The Convention Will Come to Order'

Once again Chairman James A. Farley opened the quadrennial Democratic national convention with the traditional: "The convention will come to order." The 1940 Democratic candidate for President is to be nominated at the immense stadium in Chicago in a colorful scene such as shown in this picture.

Eyelet Eyeful

Eyelet embroidery, so popular in day wear, is employed in this eye-filling evening gown worn by beautiful Elmira Roessler, of the CBS radio serial "The Romance of Helen Trent." Fetching black velvet bows match the slip.

Francis Bacon's Hobby

Francis Bacon, the essayist, spent his spare time devising new styles in men's clothes. He made 1,200 drawings of freakish raiment and had tailors make some of them up. When no friends of his would wear any of the wild and giddy costumes, he hired men to put them on and promenade the London streets.

Mahogany's Scientific Name

The scientific name for mahogany is "Swietenia." This name was given it by Nicholas Jaquin of Leyden, who was sent to the West Indies by Francis I, of Austria, to study the flora of that region. The name honors Geraard van Swieten, botanist and physician, also of Leyden.

When a movie star comes to New York, you can almost automatically plot his itinerary — this club for dinner, that for supper, another for laughs. It has become a standard routine . . . There are 30 hotels, 33 night clubs, 167 restaurants and 21 liquor stores within a radius of five blocks of Radio City. Some of them are good . . . More and more of those wedge-shaped slippers are being seen in the night clubs. Pretty soon a spiked heel will be a museum piece—more's the pity.

Ezra Stone, star of "The Aldrich Family," no sooner gets away on the first vacation he has been able to grab since he was in school, than a cable catches him in Havana, with orders to cut his holiday short and enplane for Hollywood. Seems the mike moguls thought it would be nice for him to appear on Jack Benny's final show of the season before taking over the spot with his own show. Now it looks like Ezra won't get any more vacation for a year at least. After pinch-hitting in the Benny Sunday spot for a couple of weeks, "The Aldrich Family" will move into a Thursday night spot of its own on the NBC-Red Network.

BOY SCOUT CUBS BESTOW HIGHEST NON-MEMBER CITATION—New York—"Because of her good deeds, public-spirited activities and fine record as an American citizen," Lucille Manners, soprano star of the Cities Service Concerts, was appointed an honorary Den Mother of the Boy Scout Cubs during her broadcast recently over the NBC-Red Network. Representing all Den Mothers in the Boy Scout organization, Miss Manners appeared as soloist during the "American Heritage of Home" pageant staged by the Scouts and Cubs during the huge "Scout-o-Rama" at Madison Square Garden, New York. At both performances Miss Manners lead the 40,000 participating Scouts in the singing of "God Bless America."

'Gone With the Wind'?

Members of congress have been asked to help suppress the moving picture, "Gone With the Wind." The Malcolm Anmidown Woman's Relief corps, of Southbridge, Mass., wrote to senators and representatives urging the film be banned as "an insult to the Grand Army of the Republic."

Nickel in Television

Television promises a new outlet for nickel. Vital as the device that translates the electrical impulses into visual patterns, the cathode-ray tube may require up to eight times as much nickel in its construction as does the conventional wireless tube. Associated with it in the receiving set are 18 to 26 radio tubes, as compared with 4 to 10 employed in the metal and its alloys are also used in the transmitting equipment.

First Hospital Chair

According to the minutes of the Pennsylvania hospital for September 28, 1783, Thomas Affick, by many considered the superior of Philadelphia's famous cabinetmaker William Savery, presented the hospital with a curious mahogany chair for the easy removal of sick patients. The chair was valued at 12 pounds.

'Youthful' House Paint

Home owners faced with the problem of making old houses look younger may try coloring them with "youthful" paints. This can be done with almost any type of construction. Side walls of wood, brick, or stucco may be painted with paints specially prepared for each surface. Roofs may be covered with one of several different types of factory-colored shingles, and color accents may be provided in window blinds and front doors. A popular new exterior color combination consists of light salmon-colored walls, emerald-green roof, and a flame-colored front door.

Tough Montana Hombre

When an unknown but tough "hombre" dropped a nickel in the telephone of a drug store at Butte, Mont., and got the wrong number, he promptly drew out his six-shooter and blasted away at the mouthpiece.

Sunken Treasure

Still in the wreck of the Fannie & Jennie, Confederate blockade runner lying off the beach at Wrightsville, N. C., is a gold and jeweled sword sent to General Robert E. Lee by British sympathizers.

SUMMER CARTWHEELS

Black Beauty is this enormous straw cartwheel trimmed in horsehair lace. Vivacious Joan Tetzel, of the CBS radio serial "Woman of Courage," finds it a perfect complement to a black chiffon afternoon dress—ideal for tea or informal dinner dancing.

Starched white pique is this huge cartwheel framing the blonde loveliness of Jessica Dragonette, soprano star of the Ford Summer Hour. Fashionably correct for dressy summer wear, it follows the trend toward bigger and bigger hats.

Men Surpass Women?

The male of the human species is superior in intelligence to the female, according to Professor William Reuter, Westminster college psychologist. Reuter asserts, on the basis of tests, that it has been proved that woman rarely becomes successful through her own ability. Men have always beaten women in every field, even in their own domain of cooking and dressmaking, according to Reuter. He said the difference in innate intelligence between the sexes may be due to the fact that the masculine brain is larger.

Carlsbad Cavern Discovery

The famous New Mexico Carlsbad caverns were discovered by Jim White, a cowboy in 1901. Seeing what he believed to be a column of black smoke rising from a distant point on the mesa, he investigated and found it to be a stream of bats pouring from the subterranean cavern.

Brazil First 'America'

The name America was first applied to central Brazil, in honor of Amerigo Vespucci, who claimed its discovery. It was first applied to the whole known Western world by Mercator, the geographer, in 1538.

Bow and Arrow Hunter

At 30 yards with bow and arrow—too close to be comfortable—Charles ("Tex") Stone of Dallas has bagged one of the largest mountain lions ever killed in Texas. Stone uses the risky, ancient weapon because an arrow, he says, does less damage to museum specimens and that is what he stalks. Tanned, slender, partly bald and 39 years old, Stone estimates he has killed 400 wild animals in Africa, South America, India, Australia, Mexico and the United States since 1920. All were shot at a range of less than 35 yards. He bagged a male mountain lion that weighed 220 pounds in the Fort Davis mountains.

N.Y.A. Provides Girls Domestic Training

Brother Rats Star In Comedy At D. C. Theatre

Romping through the gay Warner Brothers comedy, "An Angel From Texas," which is now playing at the Daly City theatre, is the gay trio of "Brother Rats"—Eddie Albert, Wayne Morris and Ronald Reagan—and their three comely girl friends—Rosemary Lane, Jane Wyman and Ruth Terry.

The rollicking story of a couple of hicks from the Texas sticks is based on George S. Kaufman's successful play "The Butter and Egg Man."

As Lydia Weston, the pride of Lone Star, Texas, Rosemary Lane plays the stage-struck country girl. Eddie Albert is Peter, her boy friend, who is saving his money to buy a hotel some day.

Lydia leaves for New York, where she covers casting offices to no avail and failing to get a stage job, becomes secretary to two shoe string producers, Marty Allen and Mac McClure, played by Ronald Reagan and Wayne Morris.

When Peter comes to New York with $20,000, looking for a hotel before he asks Lydia to marry him, Marty and Mac go to work on him. They need a backer and decide that Peter is it. Complications set in when Lydia steps into the role Valerie Blayne, played by Ruth Terry, had been given. Valerie is a gangster's sweetheart and threatens trouble when her boy friend gets out of the stir.

Rehearsals indicate that the show will lay the biggest Broadway egg of the season and Marty's wife Marge, played by Jane Wyman, determines to teach her husband a lesson for exploiting the unfortunate yokels. She helps Peter buy the show outright with her own money. When the intended drama is accepted as a hilarious farce, Peter and Lydia are acclaimed the season's comets over Broadway.

Companion feature is "Show Down," with William Boyd.

SO THIS IS BROADWAY!

So this is Broadway murmurs Eddie Albert while surrounded by an osculatory bevy of brunette beauty. That's what happens in "An Angel From Texas," the new comedy film now playing at the Daly City theatre.

Ozone Thwarted

The destructive action of invisible ozone discharges which consume ordinary electrical transmission wires in three seconds has been resisted for three years by wires insulated with koroseal, new synthetic elastic, in tests conducted by B. F. Goodrich company scientists at Akron, Ohio, laboratories.

Cleveland Relief Measure

Cleveland relief authorities have ordered the impounding of license plates of relief clients and members of their families who own automobiles. "If these people want to own and operate cars," City Relief Commissioner Frank G. Jones said, "they will get themselves cut off relief rolls."

U. S. Farm Imports

U. S. imports of agricultural products, except forest products and distilled liquors, have averaged $1,582,000,000 annually for the past 16 years.

Weatherbeaten Woodwork

A method by which an old weatherbeaten effect can be achieved on new knotty pine woodwork has been devised by paint authorities. Paint experts advise the sponging of the surface with a fairly strong solution of ammonia or soda. If a dark finish is desired, make a stain of raw umber thinned with turpentine and add enough varnish to bind it. Prepared varnish stains are available for this purpose if preferred. A thin coat of reduced shellac or dull varnish may then be applied, followed by a coating of wax.

Mountain-Climbers Rest

Years ago Dr. Valentine T. McGillycuddy, Berkeley, Calif., was the first man to climb Harney peak in South Dakota's Black Hills. Now deceased, his ashes will rest on the summit at his own request.

Miniature Tennessee Mules

Lez Watson of Columbia, Tenn., raises miniature mules by crossing Shetland ponies and donkeys, says the American Magazine.

Light Ray Messages

Messages by light rays were described as an almost interception-proof means of communication during warfare by Dr. Phillips Thomas, research engineer of an Indianapolis electric company. The method would be especially effective in communication between the ground and planes in the air, he pointed out, asserting a message could be intercepted only by cutting into the beam directed at the plane. Other electrical developments demonstrated were a "sterilamp" which he explained would destroy all germs in a given confined area, such as a hospital operating room, and a "black light" which produces various colors.

Elephant on Diet

Waddy, 76-year-old elephant at Franklin park zoo, Boston, is on a diet. Her present limited menu of beets and carrots was selected because Waddy has only two teeth left.
